

In the literal sense. I enjoy mountain biking and nature. It represents my ambition and desire for challenge. The biker's position represents where I am in life. I am about to take on an enjoyable challenge (college) and I don't know what my path will be for certain, but I will embrace it. (Ben Finley)