

C&T Journal 2

Due Tuesday, April 24, 2007

Write 2-3 pages in reflection of one of the texts that we have read. Papers are due on April 24 at 11:59 p.m. and must be turned in via the Digital Dropbox on Blackboard (one point penalty for not using the Digital Dropbox). Papers turned in after 11:59 p.m. on the 24th will be assessed a late penalty of one point per hour. Please include your name in the text of the file, so that the journal has your name on it when I print it out. You have lots of time to write this journal, so no one should have trouble turning the journal in on time.

Possible options for texts to reflect upon and write about are:

- The Hebrew texts Samuel through Job
- The Life of Fredrick Douglass
- Selections from Life of a Slave Girl, Washington, DuBois, and Ellison
- A Raisin in the Sun
- The Autobiography of Malcolm X
- Selections from Tatum and McWhorter

A reading journal complements and completes the act of reading by allowing you to record impressions, pose questions, and explore issues raised by the text. A journal is reflective writing rather than writing to present a thesis and convince the reader. Do not summarize the text. Rather, pose a question, tease out an issue, respond to the author— be creative in your response!

Journal papers will be graded following the format posted in the syllabus and will focus on:

- Diction and syntax, using appropriate language
- Correctness in grammar and punctuation
- Depth and richness of thought, insightful analysis of the text, appropriate consideration of the implications of the text, or other meaningful thoughts (Do NOT simply summarize the text!) Use your own language and ideas.
